FLIES OVER MIGHTY ALPS

Peruvian Aviator Crosses the Mountains, but is Seriously Injured

INJURED IN LANDING.
Milan, Sept. 23.—Chavez crossed the Simplon pass at 1:38 and thus accomplished what has been regarded as one of the most daring feats proposed for air men. He had waited patiently for favorable weather along the route, where strong winds are the rule. This morning both sides of the Alps reported clear weather, but the top of the Simplon pass was in a haze.

Chavez determined to make the attempt and rose to a height estimated at nearly 7,000 feet. It was known that it would be necessary for him to attain nearly this altitude to clear the Simplon pass, the summit of which rises 6,592 feet. He maintained apparently this altitude over the road built by Napoleon in 1800 over the Simplon pass. He accomplished the eight miles that brought him over the top of Simplon and then descended gracefully over the eighteen miles down to Domodossola. Arriving at Domodossola he had left the hardest part of his journey behind him, having escaped the high peaks and the jumble of rocky gorges on the side of the summit. The remainder of the distance to this city offers little difficulty, he takes the aviator over Lake Maggiore and a succession of plains to the goal.

The distance from Brig, Switzerland, to Milan, and the prizes were for the aviator who should first make the flight, starting from a tableland 900 feet above sea level at the height of the Rhone valley near Brig, Switzerland.

CONFESSES TO CRIMES

Highwayman Admits He Made an Attack on Young Woman

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 23.—Elmer Belk, a young confessed highwayman on probation, was identified last night as the perpetrator of one of a series of attacks on young women here recently. The identification was made by Miss Mary Verde, eighteen years old.

In every case the victim was taken from the protection of her escort. Miss Verde was attacked Monday night while she was returning to her home with a male companion. She managed to beat off her assailant, but other cases the escorts were forced to run for their lives, leaving the young women at the mercy of the criminal. Belk is said to have admitted to the attack on Miss Verde, but for no other purpose than robbery.

PERSONAL FRIEND OF CHAS DICKENS

London, Sept. 23.—A link with Charles Dickens has been severed by the death of Mrs. G. M. Hayman, one of the novelist's closest personal friends. She was asserted by her family to have been the original "Little Dorrit." She would have reached her eighty-first birthday next month. Mrs. Hayman's father was a solicitor living in London and was for years an intimate friend of Dickens. The novelist was a visitor at his house and took keen interest in all the members of the family.

ANOTHER QUARREL IN SOUTH AMERICA
Bogota, Colombia, Sept. 23.—There has been a rupture between Colombia and Venezuela. Yesterday the Venezuelan government telegraphed the members of the Venezuelan legion to leave Bogota and await instructions at Panama. The nature of the complications is not known here.

HOTELS CROWDED WITH VISITORS ATTRACTED BY THE BIG EVENTS

Weather Most Favorable and the Greatest Fair Ever Held in the Intermountain Country Is Assured Success--Two Thousand Head of Prize Sheep On Exhibition--Blooded Horses From Many Countries--Free Entertainment Is Unexcelled--Livestock, Horticultural Products and Other Exhibits Continue to Arrive--The Fair Will Be at Its Best with the Coming of Great Western Carnival Co.

Better weather conditions for the opening of the Four-State Fair than prevailed this morning could not be desired. The sky was clear and the autumn air was delightful and everything conspired to add to the auspiciousness of the occasion.

As is usually the case at the opening of fairs, the exhibitors were not ready for the people, they had not yet placed all their products in their proper places. As a result of this there was much activity on the grounds in getting ready. Much progress is being made, however, and it is thought that by this evening nearly all the departments will be in order.

In the early morning hours vans and other vehicles for the conveyance of agricultural, horticultural, farm implements, pianos, art goods, and the many other things to be seen at a fair were at the Fair Grounds in large numbers and the grounds really had the appearance of a great commercial mart.

Men and women were busy decorating their places of exhibit, each being anxious to "get ready for the crowd." The crowd did not appear until the afternoon, when the ponies were trotted out to race. But, with all the Fair Grounds were busy in every direction and it was plainly indicated that with weather conditions such as these, the attendance during the week will be larger than ever before during fair time in this city. The hotels are crowded with visitors, here to attend the Fair and they will add to the gaiety of the Fair crowds.

At an early hour this morning there were 1,500 blooded sheep in the pens for show, and during the day 1,000 more were unloaded at the railroad.

places and driven to the exposition. The sheep in the pens this morning came from different parts of Canada and Europe, and from Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Wyoming, Idaho, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Montana, the Dakotas and other sections. Draft horses and blooded cattle were in evidence and the poultry and pet animal buildings were rapidly filling up.

The horticultural department had the largest display of any other department at the grounds, except, perhaps, the domestic science and art department.

It was estimated that three hundred race ponies were ready for the starting, when called, and that some of the fleetest horses of the western country are here.

Individual business concerns were busily engaged in placing exhibits, their wares and merchandise. All the side attractions in the show place will be ready for the night performance.

President Rowe states that he is well pleased with the beginning of the Fair and he is confident that success will crown the efforts of those who have worked so hard to make the Fair a big thing.

Entries Have Been Made.
The entries in almost every class at the fair is already filled, some classes having been filled to overflowing, and entries discontinued at ten o'clock yesterday morning. Every concession, with its paraphernalia, every attraction is on the grounds. Every performer in the big vaudeville show, which will occupy the stage in front of the new grand stand has arrived, and all that is awaited is the coming of opening time today.

Biggest Sheep Show in World.
The sheep show is the first of its kind in the country, and the managers under the chairmanship of Fred Herington, are setting a pace that will require considerable hustling in future years to surpass, or even equal.

Exhibit of Draft Horses.
There are more high class entries of live stock on the Fair grounds this year than ever before were gathered in this city--even in the west. Fancy Clydesdale draft horses, fancy cattle of every kind, calves, yearlings, all ages, sizes, colors and shapes, and all prize winners.

In the poultry and pet stock department are entries and exhibits from not only America, but from across the ocean. Chocolate English cackles, black English cackles, Himalayan hares, Belgian hares, Dutch black rabbits, dogs, fancy feathered fowl, and every imaginable kind of a pet or fowl has been entered. The cavies are something new in the country, having been imported by Geo. C. Eckert, a Chicago pet fancier from Europe, and sent here for exhibition. They are a species of Guinea pig, and will undoubtedly receive much attention from visitors. Mr. Eckert makes entries in imported hares, rabbits and cackles, and has one of the largest exhibits at the grounds.

Prize Winners in Poultry Exhibit.
V. E. Shirley of Minnion, Nebraska, sends prize winning black Wyandotte chickens; silver faced Wyandottes and rose combed Columbian; Charles McClure of Tremonton, Utah, sends three white single combed Orpingtons; Peter McCulloch of Logan, a pen of Plymouth Rocks, and this does not include the local entries in the poultry department.

All of the birds entered are beautiful. Their perfectness of feather, coloring and barring has to be seen to be appreciated. The exhibition in this department will be the largest and best ever shown in the state.

Horticultural and Agricultural Exhibits.
In the big horticultural and agricultural exhibition buildings exhibitors and fair supervisors were working until late in the night, arranging large exhibits of Utah-grown fruit and vegetables. There were thousands of the giant Elberta peaches, red apples, grapes and fruits of all kinds, a plenty. Melons as big as wash tubs, and pumpkins bigger, were on display.

Squash, egg plants, and in fact every sort of vegetable were either already arranged for display, or were being hauled in by the wagon load.

Space Goes Rapidly.
In the sheep department, fifty or more exhibitors have entries in fancy wools. The long haired Lincoln and the baby lambs are there, in pens, in flocks and individually. F. S. King Brothers and company, a firm that has extra large entries in both the auction sales and the competition for premiums, has erected a giant display sign of electricity bearing the name of his firm above the show.

Vaudeville Show Is Ready.
All of the vaudeville performers and acts have arrived and are quartered at the grounds. Don Carlos, with his big animal act, consisting of twenty dogs and eight monkeys, occupy a room under the old grand stand, and the yaps and squeals of his performing pet filled the air all during the night. This act was secured by Dr. Rowe at a great expense and would be a headliner at any vaudeville house.

It will not be headliner at this show, however, for the simple reason that every act is a headliner in itself. The show-to-be offered every afternoon and evening will be one of the best ever gotten together under one management in Utah.

Famous European Act Arrives.
The Alexander Kola Russian dancers and singers are at the grounds. This troupe has shown before all the nobility and royalty of Europe, and is considered a very high class attraction.

There will be marvelous aerial acts, ordinary comedians and a new Russian act, just imported. The latter is a magic, or super-natural exhibition by two men and a lady. Some of their stunts are promised to startle the natives.

If any resident of Ogden or vicinity should miss the fair, on the opening day, please don't blame the Standard for it. We have told you about it. Nuff sed.

FLESHPOTS OF EGYPT

Which Champ Clark
Says Were Placed Before Insurgents

East St. Louis, Sept. 23.—"The interminable war of the Republicans has developed the whole land and, to even the dullest mind, the evidence of Republican dissolution must be apparent," said Congressman Champ Clark to the delegates to the Illinois Democratic state convention today.

He then enumerated the victories of the Democrats in recent primaries and elections and predicted that the next house of representatives would be democratic.

"We cannot count on Republican factionalism alone to win," continued the minority leader. "That may give us the house this fall without any effort on our part, but the chances are that Republican factionalism alone would not give us victory beyond this year. We must have a program of our own, looking towards better government than the Republicans have given us."

"The Republicans abused their privileges and wasted their opportunities. In a little more than twelve months, they were so utterly demoralized that on the 19th of March, 1910, after we clipped Mr. Cannon's claws, he angrily declared that there was no longer a Republican majority in the house."

"The most potent cause of Republican dissensions is the tariff question, on which rock parties have split before. The Republicans promised to revise the tariff downward in order to get in, having gotten in they revised it upward. They have given absolutely no relief whatever to the consumers of the land, but most of the increases were real increases adopted by such skillful artists as Senator Aldrich and placed every time where they would do the most good to the interests and most injury to the consumers of the land."

"Some twenty-three Republicans in the house and seven Republicans in the senate revolted against the stupendous conference and the standstill leaders were attempting to play upon the American people and warned them of the consequences. Straws show which way the wind blows and a few days ago a very large straw blow out of Beverly in the shape of a letter, announcing that henceforth and forever the insurgent Republican statesmen would have an equal chance at the pie counter with the regulars."

"Last spring, so I have been informed, when an insurgent asked for any place for one of his constituents, he was informed that he had no right to expect patronage unless he lined up for every legislative proposition emanating from the administration."

"So the administration has come down off its high horse and instead of bullying the insurgents, is tempting them back by offering them a share in the savory flesh pots of Egypt."

"The people of the United States deserve to be treated honestly and fairly, which has not been done in the matter of the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff law. On the contrary, they were taken in and done for."

WRECK ON ROCK ISLAND

Twenty-one Bodies Have Been Taken From the Wreckage

Denver, Colo., Sept. 23.—Westbound passenger train No. 27, on the Rock Island, due in Denver at 8:25 this morning from Kansas City, ran into a washout at 4 o'clock this morning near Clayton, Kas., and was wrecked. Four trainmen are known to be dead and it is reported that two or three passengers were killed and a number of others injured.

FRANK PICKENBAUGH, engineer. J. W. USHER, conductor. WILLIAM MILLS, fireman. HUFMAN, baggage man, pinned under wreck.

Physicians have been hurried from Norton, Colorado, Coib and other points. A wrecking train has been sent from Phillipsburg.

The wreck was caused by a cloud-burst which swept portions of northwestern Kansas last night. A bridge was carried away and the train, while running at a good speed, ran into the gap, the engine and mail car plunged.

DENEEN MAKES A KEY NOTE ADDRESS

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23.—Governor Deneen, as temporary chairman, opened the Republican state convention here today with a keynote address. In which he discussed the tariff along the lines laid down by President Taft in his campaign letter to the Republican congressional committee. Speaker Cannon found a seat with the Vermillion county delegation, but was sought out and brought to the platform.

Mr. Deneen was enthusiastically applauded.

plauded. He declared that eighteen months had passed since the beginning of the national administration, and they had been fruitful in the enactment of legislation in redemption of the pledges of the 1908 platform, such as tariff revision, the amendment of the interstate commerce law, passage of the law authorizing the president to withdraw public lands from entry, and to protect the water power sites and conserve natural resources; passage of the pure food and drug law; amendment of the employers liability law, and passage of the law compelling publicity of contributions for campaign expenses.

"With this achievement," said the speaker, "in conclusion, 'the party should declare of certain amendments to the primary law, to the election law and to the civil service law.'"

GETTING READY AT SARATOGA

New York, Sept. 23.—The leaders in this city of both the "old guard" and "progressive" camps of the Republican party are packing their grips today, preparatory to marching on Saratoga for the final fight. The state convention will open there on September 27. William Barnes Jr., of Albany, leader of the old guard, will be the first of the notables to arrive at the seat of war. He will be in Saratoga before sundown and by nightfall will be joined by State Chairman Woodruff and other leaders.

The progressives will not arrive on the battlefield until later. Chairman Lloyd C. Griscom of the New York county committee, will march upon Saratoga in probably the most unusual way that a leader of a political party has ever declared. He is expected that he will go up the Hudson in the motorboat Tarpon, which nearly drowned Colonel Roosevelt in his trip across the sound from Oyster Bay to New Haven to meet President Taft. He will stop off at Staatsburg, and thence by motor across country to Saratoga, arriving late Saturday.

CHINESE IN WHOLESALE
DEFAUDING OF GOVERNMENT
Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 23.—Edward Foster, special officer of the Dominion government, now here, believes he has discovered a scheme for the wholesale defrauding of the federal government through alleged illegal entry of Chinese into Canada by avoidance of the $500 head tax.

He has detained thirty out of about four hundred Chinese arriving by the steamer Empress of China. It is believed that the scheme is being carried on by an organization which has extended workings on both sides of the Pacific.

Chinese students and merchants are exempted from head tax. Now it is said coolies are coming in under fraudulent passports, establishing them in the privileged class.

CASHIER MISSING AND FIRM SUFFERS A LOSS

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 23.—I. C. Lockhurst, cashier for the Gardner-Johnson Shipping company, is missing and the firm announces the loss of $7,000. Lockhurst, for whom a warrant was at once issued, left for Seattle on Saturday and from there sent a draft of one thousand to his wife with a message stating that he was going to South Africa and asking her to join him there.

WORLD'S MARKETS

COMMISSIONER LANE'S TALK
DEPRESES STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 23.—Prices relaxed in the opening dealings today in the stock market, losses reaching as much as a large fraction in all of the most important issues.

American Copper fell 1-4. Southern Pacific, St. Paul and American Beet Sugar, 1. There was only a meagre volume of dealings.

There was a feeble rally after the opening dip, following which there was another severe break in which all of the principal stocks scored losses of a point or more. Selling St. Paul gave way 2 points; Copper, 1 5/8; Northern Pacific, and Tennessee Coal, 1 1-4, and United States Steel and Canadian Pacific 1.

The market hardened a trifle and became dull on the rally. The depression of the market was ascribed principally to the views expressed by Commissioner Lane at the hearing against allowing increases in freight charges.

The weakness of 2-magnesium Copper grew out of a reported reduction in the asking price of Lake copper. The market was almost stagnant at the recovery of the second hour.

Great Northern Ore certificates fell 1. Bonds were steady.

PAYNE TALKS ON TARIFF

Defends New Schedules and Replies to His Critics

Lyons, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Representative Seno E. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives and author of the tariff law bearing his name, made a warm defense of that measure before the congressional convention which renominated him here today. He said in part:

"I have always been ready to give an account of my stewardship to my constituents. There has been so much of unjust criticism during the last year and a half that it seems more fitting than ever to speak somewhat in detail of what has been accomplished."

"The platform promised a revision of the tariff that should provide a duty equal to the difference in cost of labor here and abroad, with a reasonable profit to the manufacturer. It promised this as to each article, whether it resulted in raising or lowering the tariff on that article. Of course intelligent men generally familiar with the tariff, believe such a revision should be downward on most articles."

"The matter of preparation of a tariff bill is a most perplexing one. Under the definition of what the bill should contain, in a platform as plain as that adopted at Chicago in 1908, the task is not easy. With a different wage scale in every country and with differences in wages in every part of each country, honest men seeking the difference in labor cost here and abroad, will not agree in all their conclusions. To reconcile these differences among twelve men selected for this task was a part of the labor we had before us, and in the last analysis these differences had to be settled by a majority vote."

"The result of our deliberations was most satisfactory to me in general results, although there were other items, like those of the woolen schedule, which I was anxious to revise. It was a source of great disappointment to me, after two exhaustive and extended hearings, that I was not able to present any program that a majority of the committee would adopt for a revision of this schedule. The reason was not that the committee was unduly influenced by those interested, but that they could not agree upon the labor cost of producing wool and woolen goods in this country and abroad with a reasonable profit to the producers. Of course, this left the woolen schedule where it was in the Dingley act with one or two small reductions in duties."

"Some of the amendments proposed by the senate were good and improved the bill, and when it got into conference, so far as was able, I endeavored to have such amendments agreed to, and all of them were."

"The law as it was signed by the president has resulted in a general revision downward, and no amount of special pleading, no misstatement of facts and no suppression of material facts will ever make it appear otherwise."

"The law has turned a deficit of $88,000,000 into a surplus of more than twenty-two million dollars in its first year's operation. It is a revenue producer. We put in increase on wines, liquors and like luxuries. We have no apologies to make for it. These are the articles on which the revenues of the government should be raised as far as possible."

"It is an easy thing to say that the present tariff law increased the cost of living, but it is impossible to prove it. It is almost impossible to find a single item on which the tariff was increased on which the prices have shown a similar increase. On the other hand, on nearly every item where we reduced the tariff or where we left it the same as under the old law, they have maintained the old price and sometimes increased it. We reduced the tariff on lumber from $2 to $1.25, and lumber brings the same old price. We increased the duty on shingles from 50 to 55 cents and the price of shingles has been lower ever since the act became a law. I could enumerate these items by the hour, showing that the price has no relation whatever to the changes in the tariff act."

"The increase in price of articles is world-wide. No other country during the last three or four years has gone through a general tariff revision, and yet every country shows the same increase on the necessities of life."

Evans In Zion

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, retired, today in Salt Lake, visited the scenes he left when a young man to enter upon his naval career.

He was the guest of the governors of the Commercial club at an informal luncheon at noon. Later in the afternoon he left for Denver.

GEN. BRAYTON OF RHODE ISLAND DEAD
Providence, R. I., Sept. 23.—Gen. Charles R. Brayton, the blind leader of the Rhode Island Republicans and a national Republican commit-tee, died here today.
